

Phap Vu Buddhist Cultural Centre of Florida

We are pleased to invite you to attend our “Vu Lan” Festival, also known as “Mother’s Day” in Vietnam.

“Vu Lan” falls on the seventh full moon of the lunar calendar and is a time for children to express filial piety to their parents.

One more tradition of this day is for people – Buddhists and non-Buddhists alike – who wish to express their gratefulness and appreciation towards their mothers, often wearing a rose. Red roses if their parents are alive or White roses if their parents have passed away. The Rose has been a symbol of love and sharing among parents and their children regardless of social background.

There will be variety of games for children including special entertainment by well known singers. The Festival will have a range of displays, entertained by a variety of performances, experience many cultural customs, activities and vegetarian food.

Please join us for a fun day with family and community at the Vu Lan Festival.
